

At the track

Posted by OldInjun - 2018/12/13 11:16

Here in the mid-Atlantic it's looking a lot like Winter. No more car stuff to do for a few months, unless you count checking the anti-freeze on our old cars.

If you're like me, it's a good time to look back on the recent car season and relive some of the highlights.

Here's one of my favorites: http://www.pontiac2plus2registry.com/images/fbfiles/images/11_11_18_b.jpg http://www.pontiac2plus2registry.com/images/fbfiles/images/11_11_18_c.jpg

http://www.pontiac2plus2registry.com/images/fbfiles/images/11_11_18_a.jpg

At Atco, NJ - the last race of the season with Super Car Races, a factory-appearing, stock-tire group I've been racing with since 2009. The air was nice, so I had a few runs in the high 13's. Fortunately nothing broke, since I drove it to the track ,instead of trailering.

"Drive it like you stole it!"

=====