I spent the weekend in Detroit Mi. and got the chance to take a sneak peek at the new Pontiac Transportation Museum, {thanks Jack }. It is going to be something special when done. It's not far from the famed Woodward Ave., and Tim and the crew have a great plan and start on this endeavor, we should all do what we can to promote this project, as a Pontiac guy and an automotive fan I think this will be a "bucket list" must see when completed. Plan a trip sometime in the future ! Oh and Mr. Ford has some pretty cool stuff in the area also.
