

Barrett Jackson Las Vegas 2+2

Posted by BigBrother - 2010/09/21 14:02

This car was sold at the San Diego RM auction in June for $22k and has been with local dealer for the past months on the market for $34k. Think it might slip through the cracks at this no reserve auction. They don't even have it advertised as 2+2 (just in description) it is really a 356 not a 338. Steering wheel cracked.. dash as small crack but thought it was solid when I saw it. Wanted to register to bid but it is a major hassle to do so at BJ so will just watch.

Car #96.1 sells on Thursday.

Sold for $24,500. Seller lost a couple of bucks on this one. I put this one as overpaid. Looks like a few of the regular BJ goof balls got into a little bidding battle at the end. Add the 10% buyers premium and your at $27K
