

1966 2+Coupe on Craig's List

Posted by OldInjun - 2011/01/03 18:36

Click here for link

Dealer sale @ $17995 - seems fair for a driver like this, depending on mechanical condition.

=====

Re:1966 2+Coupe on Craig's List

Posted by BigBrother - 2011/01/04 12:57

this has been on the market for since the beginning of Summer. Like it but prob more like a 13k-15k car. The nice red driver in detroit has been on market for 5 months at 19k... Unless they are really special/nice...they don't seem to be moving.

Makes sense...get a really nice one for $25k or an average one for 15-19k...might as well spend the extra 6-8k to get the nice one

=====

Re:1966 2+Coupe on Craig's List

Posted by OldInjun - 2011/01/04 13:28

I agree - "pay now or pay (more) later". Rarely does a seller recoup his restoration costs. Nuy it restored.

Seems as if there are a lot of 2+2's for sale currently - am I wrong?

=====

Re:1966 2+Coupe on Craig's List

Posted by BigBrother - 2011/01/04 16:41

Not any really nice ones currently on the market. I have a "wanted" ad in Hemmings this month to see what it shakes out. I've gotten a number of contacts the past 4 months from my online "wanted posts" but most are projects or really "not right" (389s etc) . I don't need a perfect car but as I realize the color combos, features, I like etc I will just be more patient. I've found some nice projects but I don't need a project in my life.

=====

Re:1966 2+Coupe on Craig's List

Posted by OldInjun - 2011/01/04 16:50

I'm rooting for the right 2+2 to come your way. As nice as it might be to "clone" one your way, per the PY post, I think in the long run you'll be happier with the real thing, and reap a financial reward at sale time. It took me many years to find mine, so be patient.

=====

Re:1966 2+Coupe on Craig's List

Posted by mr pontiac - 2011/01/05 09:19

Hey, I have decided after owning my 2plus2 for 26 years to sell. I dont have to tell ya how fun these cars are. If you or anyone is interested check out the pics on the registry. Im asking 25,000 for her.Needs some minor stuff. Looks and runs great. Very fast, awesome color combo.

=====

Re:1966 2+Coupe on Craig's List

Posted by BigBrother - 2011/01/05 19:34

Great car...I'm leaning towards a vert being out in SoCal (makes it easier to convince my wife)...good luck with the selling

mr pontiac wrote:

Hey, I have decided after owning my 2plus2 for 26 years to sell. I dont have to tell ya how fun these cars are. If you or anyone is interested check out the pics on the registry. Im asking 25,000 for her.Needs some minor stuff. Looks and runs great. Very fast, awesome color combo.

=====

Re:1966 2+Coupe on Craig's List

Posted by mr pontiac - 2011/01/06 09:59

Good luck on the vert. Enjoy the weather out there

=====