Just returned from POCI Charleston. Got home 8:00 last night, so I'm "recuperating" today, but I'll get caught up soon and post pictures and a few comments on the convention. we had a decent showing of 2+2's there - I think about 10. I know that at least 4 won a Gold Award, and one Silver, in points judged Stock Class.

Busy, busy. Spent the weekend at the Tri-Power Nats in Norwalk. Great show, great weather. They had their biggest turnout in the 19 years of the show's history.

Between that trip & POCI Charleston, I've had little time to spend on the everyday job that supports my cars & hobby. Tough balance between doing what you HAVE to do and doing what you WANT to do. When I can squeeze some time, I'll post pix.
