

Beautiful '66 2+2 Convertible

Posted by OldInjun - 2014/06/10 09:18

Special "Bonneville" Edition (only kidding)

Click here for link

2+2 Registry member Forsberg is selling this gorgeous Fontaine Blue 338hp automatic convertible.

The good news - it has 8-lugs.

The bad news - a test drive requires a jump across the pond to Sweden for most of us. Also, according to the ad, it runs on Diesel.

The details, as translated by Google:

"super nice pontiac 2 +2 cabbe, very unusual and unique model fewer than 50 units produced and were only self car model this year. Launched as the popular pontiac gto.s big brother, the idea huh a high performance muscle car in full size format. triple black 100% stainless steel, the car rested in the arizona desert from the early 80s and has elrenoverats here in Sweden 2012-13. fontain blue, canvas cab, 421cui, TH400, ps, pb, 8-lugs, etc. ... new gummilsiter, new badge (421 badge is now fitted) and all chrome is new. car is extremely tight and fine with pulp powder under the hood and is a joy to drive bes and clear."

I'm not sure what a "new gummilsiter" is, but I certainly would want one on my car. Gotta love that pulp powder, too.

Not sure if I have the asking price right, but it appears that 345,000 Swedish Krona equals $51586.23 US Dollars.

=====

Re:Beautiful '66 2+2 Convertible

Posted by pontiacfarmer - 2014/07/20 06:53

Hello

All new rubber.. around doors, conv , trunk.. that is what it means ;)

regards stig

=====